Dear Parents and Carers,

Following advice from our Trust, home reading books will once again be sent out no later than next week. Children should read at least ten minutes per night.

Books will be given out on a Monday and then (where applicable) need to be returned on Friday. A new book will be given out on a Monday. This is to ensure we are maintaining COVID secure guidelines and that the books have the recommended quarantine time before being given to other children.

Reading is at the heart of learning and I know you will all support our children in this area.

Thank you for your continued support

Mrs Poole
